23 Sep 2026

Congratulations to Ir Dr Lotto LAI awarded the 2026 IKA – Silver Medal by Asian Network for Quality (ANQ)

Ir. Dr. Lotto LAI, Former Chairman of Hong Kong Society for Quality (HKSQ) is a recipient "Ishikawa-Kano Award – Silver Medal" during the 24th ANQ Congress was organized by Asian Network for Quality (ANQ) and China Association for Quality (CAQ) from 14 to 18 Sep 2026.

"This is to certify that Lotto Kim-Hung LAI has distinguished career advancing quality excellence through visionary leadership at the Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks (HKSTP), transformative stewardship of the Hong Kong Society for Quality (HKSQ), and unwavering dedication to the Asian Network for Quality (ANQ) Congresses, fostering widespread dissemination of quality principles and practices across Asia."

Ishikawa-Kano Award – Silver Medal (IKA-Silver): To be awarded to professionals from the field of quality management who made outstanding contribution to the cause of quality in their respective country and in Asia over a long period of time. The potential candidates should have received high recognition in their own country or any other country. Area for excellence for IKA-Silver medal is briefly described as follows:

- For academic work in advancing theory of quality and its application.
- For effective application of quality principles and methods through executive action and / or consultative process.
- For widespread dissemination of quality in their respective country and another country in Asia.

Congratulation to Ir Dr Lotto LAI on receiving this well-deserved honor in Asia!